We are proud of that we could raise the reputation of a company in Hungary and all over the world, which produced stamps among the first ones in the world and received numerous international and domestic recognitions for its jobs. However, we know that we are accountable not only to our history but our shareholders as well. Therefore we keep on working with renewed strength under our new company name in order to meet the requirements of the domestic and international markets even better and more efficiently. Besides traditional security printing we will focus in coming developments even more on secure handling of cards, data and transactions.”* – commented Gábor Zsámboki, the Company's CEO.
