“The Company has been producing Hungarian tax stamps for 18 years. Security of excise and tax stamps is a key issue for the budget and as a result of two decades of cooperation we have superseded the counterfeiters from this field. The Document Security Laboratory of the Printing Company - in cooperation with the authorities - does not only improve the level of Hungarian documents, but we have also been successful at numerous international tenders. Icelandic driving licences have been being produced in Budapest and passports of far African countries are protected by our high-tech inks. Our success in this tender confirms us that we can stay competitive only due to new developments and patents.” – commented Gábor Zsámboki, CEO of ANY Security Printing Company.
