Security ANYtime and ANYwhere

ANY Security Printing Company PLC (former State Printing Company) was founded in 1851. As one of the leading security printing companies in the Central-Eastern European region, ANY Security Printing Company Group consists of ten companies. There are 4 sites in Hungary, 2 in Romania and one each in Bulgaria, Slovakia and Moldova. This group of companies is a security and business form producing company with one of the highest revenues. The Company's shares have been listed on the Budapest Stock Exchange in the premium category since 2005. Its financial situation is characterised by stable and efficient operation. Its development is supported by its innovative products and its organic growth in the Central and Eastern European and African regions. ANY Security Printing Company's strategy is focused on secure person and product identification and payment-related products.

The Company's activities are characterised by references such as the production of Hungarian electronic ID documents and the personalisation of biometric passports.

Our service offering goes far beyond the production of security and business forms and plastic cards to include the development of document protection concepts, the implementation of electronic document management systems and the archiving of office records. In addition to designing complete protection systems, we can produce the required documents and supply the equipment needed for verification.

As a result of our export activities, our products are well known in more than 50 countries. The trust of our customers, combined with the expertise and loyalty of our staff, is a guarantee that our more than 165-year-old Company will have a future worthy of its rich past.

ANY Security Printing Company has designed its product portfolio, so that it can develop and supply a complete document-issuing process. However, some of its products and services can be sold on a modular basis to the document-issuing authorities, document offices, IT system integrators, security printing houses and paper factories of a specific country.

The Company supports state administration in document and product protection projects from conception planning to production, as it has more decades of experience and references in document issuing. ANY Security Printing Company's strategy is focused on secure person and product identification and payment-related products.

Our Printing Company has the technological and professional background necessary for visa and biometric passport production, including intaglio printing technology and cutting-edge printing and sewing machines. Our Printing Company produces passport booklets with security features complying with the ICAO 9303 standard, but offers a number of non-compulsory security features as well.

The passports and visas produced by our Printing Company contain a number of first-level security features (holograms, optically variable prints, etc.) that require no device for checking. To check the second and third level security features we recommend using our handheld verification devices, such as Horus, RADIR, VerifIR.

The Company has already produced more than 1 billion cards, including domestic and foreign document cards, banking cards and loyalty cards. Besides production of electronic document cards it offers Visa and MasterCard banking cards containing contact and contactless chip, full scope of card solutions and self-developed loyalty system.

- 500 million card production per year
- ICAO Standard compliance
- 11 different security certifications
- 167 years references in document production

DOCUMENT SECURITY AND IT PRODUCT PROTECTION

For the sake of protecting originality and quality, so that a particular product or the information on it can be regarded as authentic, it needs to be protected with special security features. Our Printing Company has deployed its long-standing development experience in those industries where tracing products and clear identification of products directly satisfy the consumers' need for security and convenience. In many cases, these authentic labels also promote the safe operation of the service industry.

Business Forms

Transactional mailing

Lottery forms

Election forms

ANY Security Printing Company provides high quality service for the development of products and services connected to data logistics and business form management.

We provide transactional mailing service for banks, insurance companies and public utilities. Appropriate handling of electronic databases, digitalised processes and personal data enable complex solutions that provide a full range of services from printing to personalisation and enveloping to mailing in the field of business correspondence.

Our printing house produces most of the Hungarian lottery forms for the company Szerencsejáték Zrt. (Hungarian gambling company).

ANY has several decades of experience in ballot paper production and in carrying out related special security and logistical tasks. The security of election forms and the successful completion of related logistics tasks is particularly important in terms of the functioning of the state. The preparation of security printing materials, the production of related voting technology materials and packaging and delivery to several thousand locations is a very complex task. The company's activities are characterised by highest international ratings and its references include ballot paper production for other countries as well.
